Changes in Our Venue

Please note that our show has extended northward. With the permission of the New York City SAPO office, we have added an additional section on the east side of University Place between East 12th and East 13th Streets. This is our new XE section and you can find it on the amended map on the back of this brochure.

Referencing the map, you will also see that our usual sections below Waverly place have been temporarily discontinued. Scaffolding on many buildings and construction in Schwartz Plaza (Bobkin Lane) have made this necessary. We hope to be back to normal by our Spring Show 2012.

But meanwhile, because of scaffolding, we have discontinued the north half of our KE section. The exhibitors that would normally be in this part of the KE section, including Paul Elson, Ben Georgia, Eugene Hyon, Tung Shue Lee, and several first time exhibitors, are now in the XE section between East 12th and East 13th Streets on the East Side of University Place. Remaining in the unobstructed part of the KE section are Ken Orton, On the Avenue Marketing, Irving Goldman, John Deng, John Dorish and Giovanni Scalis.

Graphic Display Systems

For several years, Graphic Display Systems of Lebanon, PA has generously donated to our show multi-section display racks which we, in turn, have shared with first-time exhibitors who came to our show from faraway states, or were just starting out on their careers. The racks have been a tremendous help and the show acknowledges with great thanks these very useful gifts.

The street lamp banners along University Place and Washington Square East use a design created for the 1934 WSOAE poster by the famous artist George Grosz (1893-1959). This image is used by permission: Art @ Estate of George Grosz/Licensed by VAGA, NY, NY.

Eight Decades of Art

It all began one balmy spring day in 1931. It was the heart of the Depression era and many people were desperate. Needing funds to pay the rent on a Greenwich Village studio that also served as his home, Jackson Pollock took a few of his iconoclastic paintings down several flights of stairs and set them up on the sidewalk, near Washington Square Park. He was soon joined by his friend and fellow Village artist, Willem DeKooning, who was in equally dire straits.

The value of their art would soon skyrocket. Although we don't know how many works they sold that day or how much they took in, the seed had been planted for a major annual event. The following year, according to the New York Times, 200 other artists, calling themselves the Artist's Aid Committee, joined in and raised a total of $9,716. Their enterprise caught the attention of such art world luminaries as Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney (founder of the Whitney Museum of Art) and Alfred H. Barr, Jr. (Director of MOMA), who organized the biannual event that evolved into the Washington Square Outdoor Art Exhibit. And now has been a major attraction for artists and art lovers for over eight decades.

Early exhibitors included such artists as Alice Neel, Saul Berman and Ilya Bolotowski, who lived and worked in the Village, and Beauford Delaney, who trekked down from Harlem. The exhibition has grown over the years and is today a venerated showcase for artists from points well beyond New York. Its scope has also expanded to include an eclectic array of media and styles, ranging from traditional to cutting edge.

Among the milestones that mark the past 81 years are the concept of the artist being selected as exhibitor by a jury of fellow artists, based upon images of submitted work; the abolishment of an early ban on nudes; the inclusion of photography as an art form; and the recognition of one-of-a-kind handmade crafts. Cash prizes, donated by individuals, organizations and corporations are awarded in various categories, based upon selections by artist-judges.
